

Pricing Specialist

Second Chance, Inc., a nonprofit social enterprise, is hiring Pricing Specialists to provide a critical function - pricing the goods that come through our 200K s.f. warehouse/showroom for our growing retail operations. If you're interested in joining a business with a heart, we'd like to talk with you.

Job Description:

As one of its key members, you'll be joining the team responsible for intake and valuation of inventory in a dynamic environment that experiences significant flow-through of material. Each day is different as we receive trucks filled with unique donations from around the region.

Daily you will:

- enter inventory descriptions in our point-of-sale database
- price regularly recurring inventory items based on our commodity pricing schedule
- research less common items to determine a value and price
- print and place tags on items to prepare them for sale on the showroom floor

Ultimately, you will become the go-to person for pricing a particular line of products. If you have a penchant for furniture shopping and pricing (antique and contemporary), if you really enjoy the decorative arts and have an eye for quality, if you enjoyed selling furniture or appliances in a past career or role, this opportunity at Second Chance, Inc. may be a fit for you.

Requirements:

The successful candidate has a strong working knowledge of a diversity of goods and commodities in the furniture, appliance and/or building materials industries and has an eye for distinguishing "quality crafted" versus "mass-produced" furniture and fixtures.

Qualifications:

- 3+ years retail experience required, strongly preferred in furniture, white goods, hardlines and/or building materials
- Intermediate to advanced computer proficiency, especially in MS Office Suite
- Able to type 50 WPM
- Excellent communication skills - written and verbal - excellent SPELLING!!
- Able to work well in a team environment
- Able to work in warehouse environment (not climate-controlled)
- High school diploma or GED
